

Riel House: The home of Métis leader and a founder of Manitoba, Louis Riel. His descendants continued to live here until 1969. It is here, in the living room, that Riel's body lay in state for two days in December 1885. The house itself has been restored to the spring of 1886.

