

Purple Saxifrage: Nunavut chose the Purple Saxifrage as their provincial flower in 1999. These flowers bloom soon after the snow melts. They are able to grow in gravel and other poor soil . The flowers are used by the Inuit to create dye and they can be eaten.

