

Mountain Avens: The Northwest Territories adopted this floral emblem in 1957. The Mountain Avens grows all over the eastern and central Arctic. A member of the rose family, it is able to grow on the rocky ground. It has trailing branches and white flowers with yellow centers.

