

As much as we like to complain about the cold winters here in Canada, the frosty weather does have some pretty big up-sides too. There is nothing quite like shovelling off a patch of perfect, outdoor ice and then going for a skate or playing hockey with friends.

