

By all accounts the decorated gingerbread house tradition began in Germany in the early 1800s, after the publishing of the Hansel and Gretel story. Now of course making and decorating a gingerbread house or cookies has become a major Christmas tradition around the world.

Happy Holidays