

Wheelchair racers, blind swimmers and disabled skiers are just some of today's Paralympians. Athletes like Chantal Petitclerc and Jeff Adams represent Canada at the Paralympics. Originally set up to get injured soldiers moving again, today's games are an elite international competition.

